Pulaski Lions Receive Charter At Dinner Party

Many Clubs Present At Charter Night Ceremonies In The Cathedral

R. ROY KEATON
MAIN SPEAKER

Tuesday night was Pulaski Lions club's first red letter one. The newest member of the Lions family in district 14-F received its charter at that time, in the presence of several hundred visiting members and their ladies, from more than a dozen clubs in western Pennsylvania, at the dining room of the Cathedral in this city.

The entire program was an outstanding one, beginning with a fine chicken dinner and concluding with a program which brought Lion enthusiasm to a high peak.

T. Roger Dever, zone chairman, of the New Bedford club, which sponsored the new club, gave the call to order, and after the opening song, led by William McComb, and the invocation by Rev. Merle Weaver, of the new Pulaski club, introduced Mel Moorhouse, of the New Bedford club as the toastmaster.

Moorhouse Toastmaster
Mr. Moorhouse spoke of the long period of rivalry which has existed between New Bedford and Pulaski, the county's outposts toward the west, and in a lighter vein compared the struggle between the North and South as a pink tea affair to this rivalry, which, he opined, would be now ended for all time with the joining of these two rivals in service for the good of these two communities.

He introduced the club representatives from a distance and the distinguished visitors, which included Arthur W. Meek, of New Castle Lions, past district governor and now international councillor; John Grunwald, of New Bedford Lions, chairman of the sponsoring committee; James Carline, president of the new Pulaski club; Robert H. Chambers, of Pittsburgh, district governor of district 14-B; Walter Jeffers, of Harrisburg, state secretary; Dr. Earl D. Baumann, of Pittsburgh, international director; Clyde E. Animal slaughter, both wild and domestic, is quite heavy on district highways at this time, Pa. News notes. In a trip from the Mercer district on Tuesday, several rabbits, dogs and cats were seen on the road dead, the victims of fast moving vehicles.

Local residents were quite surprised upon waking this morning to find almost every trace of the wet snow which fell late last evening gone. The temperature rose somewhat during the night, with snow turning to rain, removing the white coat from the ground.

State Highway Department and city chattering crews really had a rough time of it for while on Tuesday evening. The heavy wet snow which fell quite generally over the county kept every available man in action. Some of the highway crews were out on the job at 2 a.m. when the danger lessened on the roads as the rain fell.

Wonder what happens to the many deer brought home or shot in Lawrence county, during the hunting season. The present season seems to have resulted in more local hunters than ever getting a deer.

Weather conditions overnight were unusual. Last night a heavy snowstorm made travel difficult on highways, and this morning, temperature had reached about forty, and the snow was whirling around the gaily lighted streets.

Declare Coal Dispute Is Far From Settled

By PHILLIPS J. PECK
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, Dec. 7.—The nation's biggest mine operator declared today that the coal dispute is far from settled despite John L. Lewis' "sample" contract with some small producers.

George H. Love, president of the Pittsburgh Consolidation Coal Co., world's largest producer, said major operators will not contract with Lewis until his "monopoly power" is abolished and curbs placed on the miners' welfare fund. Love asserted that the mine owners "are not stubbornly resisting legitimate demands" of the miners.

But he said stability "must come to the coal industry" and Lewis' unprecedented power over mining operations must be ended. Love said Lewis' action in ordering his 480,000 soft and hard coal diggers on a three-day week "is a power neither industry nor labor should possess."

Makes New Round World Flight Time

NEW YORK, Dec. 7.—(INS)—Maj. Thomas Lanphier, Jr., World War II air ace, established a new round the world flight record in regularly scheduled commercial planes today when he landed at LaGuardia airport at 11:55 a. m. EST.

Lanphier completed the global trip in four days, 23 hours and 47 minutes, making the last leg on an American Airlines plane from Chicago.

Thus he broke the old record set by Col. Eddie Eagan, New York Boxing Commission chairman, who completed a similar trip in six days, three hours and 15 minutes.

Pearl Harbor Presents Quiet Contrast Today

PEARL HARBOR, Dec. 7.—(INS)—Pearl Harbor presented a quiet contrast today on the eighth anniversary of that fateful attack which plunged United States into World War II.

The anniversary was to be noted in a simple five-minute ceremony aboard the rusted hulk of the half-sunken battleship Arizona, still a watery grave for some 900 navy men—victims of planes which streaked in from four Japanese aircraft carriers on a quiet Sunday morning eight years ago.

The ceremony will start at 8 o'clock in the morning—the time when the Japanese attack was at its height.

Across the road from Pearl Harbor, graveyard of America's worst naval disaster, lies the air force's Hickam field which was blasted on that Dec. 7. It is now an air-drome devoted to routine flights of transport planes.

The only combat aircraft now in Hawaii are 25 outmoded F-47 Thunderbolts—and a handful of war-weary navy patrol planes.

Eight years ago there were 250 (Continued on Page Two)

Report Some Of Coal Producers May Meet Terms

Number Of Independent Producers Reported As Ready To Settle

COAL PRODUCERS DENY 'BREAK' NEAR BY WILLIAM FLANNERY
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

PITTSBURGH, Dec. 7.—A number of independent producers in western Pennsylvania, West Virginia and Indiana were reported today anxious to come to terms with the United Mine Workers.

U. M. W. district leaders said groups of independent operators would probably sign settlements with Union Chief John L. Lewis in Washington within the next several days.

Lewis announced in Washington that one small group of producers in Kentucky had already made peace with the union.

Eleven Go On Trial In Sofia

Former Deputy Premier And Ten Others Are Charged With Plotting

SOFIA, Dec. 7.—(INS)—Former Deputy Premier Traicho Kostov and ten other top Bulgarian Communists went on trial today in Sofia, charged with plotting with Yugoslav Marshal Tito and Anglo-American agents to overthrow the Communist government.

Kostov, only five feet four inches tall and wearing spectacles, listened calmly as Supreme Court President Boris Losanov opened the trial by reading the charges. The trial is not expected to last more than a week.

The gravest charge against the 11 defendants is that they conspired to assassinate Georgi Dimitrov, later premier of Bulgaria, and annex the country to Yugoslavia.

Other charges include treason, espionage, sabotage, and "betrayal of the fatherland."

Oak Ridge Strike Gains Momentum

OAK RIDGE, Tenn., Dec. 7.—(INS)—A dispute involving non-union construction workers at the Oak Ridge atomic energy commission projects gathered momentum today. Nearly 1,000 men are now on strike.

An inspector from the National Labor Relations board will meet with workers involved in the walk-out at the AEC's new $66,000,000 gaseous diffusion plant and Oak Ridge national laboratory projects.

Gordon Molesworth, assistant to the manager of Oak Ridge AEC operations, said he does not know the reason for the dispute but officials believe it began because the Oman Construction Co. of Nashville, Tenn., used non-union men in building a gas line to the new plant, officially designated as K-29.

None of the idle employees was engaged in production of fissionable materials used in atomic projects.

Lewis Reports One Group Has Signed Contract

Union Leader Admits That "Break" In Industry's Opposition Is Small

By PHILLIPS J. PECK
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, Dec. 7.—A jittery coal industry doubled its guard today against the efforts of John L. Lewis to expand a "sample" contract into a nationwide 1949 mine wage settlement.

The United Mine Workers president announced, after seven months of deadlocked negotiations and three strikes, that one small group of mine owners has capitulated to the union's demands for higher wages and other benefits for the miners.

Lewis said a new two-year contract has been signed with an undisclosed number of companies, reportedly a group of Pipeville, Ky., truck mine owners, which nearly doubles industry payments to the union welfare fund and boosts the miners' wages 95 cents a day.

"Break" Is Small
The union leader admitted that the "break" in the industry's opposition to his demand is small but he added that "additional coal companies will execute the agreement as convenience permits."

Major coal producers waited anxiously to see how far Lewis will progress in his "divide and conquer" strategy.

The U. M. W. chief reportedly has several other companies ready to (Continued on Page Two)

See Lessening Of Tension In China, N. Korea

WASHINGTON, Dec. 7.—(INS)—The imminent return of most Americans in Communist hands in Asia promises today to lessen current tension with the Red regimes of China and North Korea.

Latest available reports indicated that Consul General Angus Ward and 19 of his associates in the consulate at Mukden have left by private train for Tientsin. They were due to report at 2:45 p. m. EST yesterday. (3:45 a. m., Mukden time today.)

Slightly before the Mukden party's departure for Tientsin, where they will take ship for Yokohama, the North Korean Communist announced that they would release two Americans who have been held captive by them for several months.

Says U.S. Has Won Half Of 'Cold War'

NEW YORK, Dec. 7.—(INS)—Marshall plan chief Paul G. Hoffman declared today that the United States has won "half" the cold war with Soviet Russia as a result of the European recovery program.

He asserted this was the "easiest" half and estimated that it will cost an additional five billion dollars to complete the job during the last two years of the program by June 30, 1952.

Hoffman's economic cooperation administration has already been appropriated ten billion dollars, covering recovery activities in the first two of the four year plan.

"Dollar Does It" Gets Response From City

A comely dressed lady, about to embark on a Christmas shopping tour walked into the Community Chest office this morning and laid two dollars on the desk. "We have already given to the drive," she said "but this is for the 'Dollar Does It' campaign for my husband and myself."

All the circumstances for donations to the renewed attempt to fill the Chest with $127,350 are not the same but the effort is paying dividends. In less than 12 hours following the "Dollar Does It" announcement $716 had been contributed, bringing the drive figure up to $99,916.

To Reach $100,000
Even the most conservative speculators admit that the Chest will reach the $100,000 sometime today and that the prospects of reaching the goal are better now than at anytime since the drive started. Chairman J. Lepere Matthews said that the success of the "Dollar Does It" campaign will be a credit to the city and the community. He also stated today that 13 agencies (Continued on Page Two)

Lieut. Gen. Groves Gives Testimony In Atomic Probe

Tells Committee He Knew Of Russian A-Bomb Espionage Attempts

HAD EVIDENCE OF ESPIONAGE (BULLETIN)

WASHINGTON, Dec. 7.—(INS)—Lt. Gen. Leslie Groves testified today that neither Henry Wallace nor the late Harry Hopkins ever sought to get atomic information or uranium from him for shipment to Russia.

By FRANK B. ALLEN
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, Dec. 7.—Lieut. Gen. Leslie R. Groves told House spy probes today that he knew of Russian atomic espionage attempts "within a month" after he took over in 1942 as head of the Manhattan project to develop the A-bomb.

Groves also told the House un-American Activities Committee that he personally knew of one shipment of uranium oxide and uranium nitrate to the Russians during the war, but declared: "I don't know how many shipments might have slipped through."

Groves said the Manhattan district learned of open official Russian attempts to obtain uranium products in March, 1943, when they sought an export license for 200 pounds of uranium oxide and 220 pounds of uranium nitrate. The retired Army officer then said:

Engaged In Espionage
"We knew prior to that time that the Russians were engaged in espionage on the Manhattan project. I knew personally of such espionage efforts within three weeks of a month after I took over my job."

Groves said that there were major espionage attempts by the Russians in Berkeley, Calif., Chicago and New York, in addition to the earlier attempts to work through Manhattan district officials in Washington. Concerning the spying, he said:

"We had enough of espionage to convince any intelligent, prudent man that there was espionage going on under the direction of officials of the Russian embassy and that every effort would be made by them to discover what we were doing."

Jessup, a key member of the department's far east policy committee, will confer with General Douglas MacArthur in Tokyo. His tour will be as extensive as possible, and may include talks with Chinese Communist leaders.

Arthur Mometer

These March like winds and the chilly days discourage the golfing bug, for weather like this makes it nicer to sit around a fire and hug the heat to your shins as the winds blow outside, but the golfer is saddened and blue, he longs for the days he can saw the white pill, and though today says forty two, He sits and he sighs as he visions the past and the future when summer will come, when the greens will be crowded the fairways the same and the locker room lounge will hum.

President Truman Working On Three Major Messages

U. S. SUB BASE, KEY WEST, Fla., Dec. 7.—President Truman combined work with recreation today at the mid-point of his south Florida vacation.

Mr. Truman, tanned and rested, scheduled a staff conference with his White House aides in preparation for the three major messages he will deliver to Congress early next month.

He will hold the business gathering in the comfort and informality of the palm-shaded patio of his headquarters on the submarine base.

Mr. Truman will go over drafts of the messages with staff aides. Actual preparation of the messages is well along. Suggested drafts for the state of the union, economic and budget messages were brought south yesterday by seven administrative assistants and other aides when they joined the Presidential vacation group for a week.

Mrs. Truman and Margaret, who came south with the President a week and a half ago, will return to Washington today.

PULASKI LIONS RECEIVE CHARTER AT DINNER PARTY

White, of Pulaski, chairman of the charter night program; Rev. Merle Weaver, of the Pulaski club; International Councilors C. Warren Shanor, of Rochester; Earl T. Ramsey, of New Castle, and E. Moyer, of Pottstown; Past District Governor Fred Andy, of Oil City; District Governor Arch Hillard, of Erie, and Past International Director Carbis A. Walker, of New Castle.

Keaton Discusses Values
One of the features of the evening was a specialty acrobatic and baton twirling act by Miss Velma Smith, a charming young miss who was stricken with polio at the age of 10 years and in five years has overcome all trace of this setback to become an outstanding performer.

R. Roy Keaton, of Chicago, Ill., assistant secretary-general of Lions International, in an outstanding address welcomed the members of the new club to the ever-growing family of Lions International, which now functions in 26 countries with over 285,000 members.

Mr. Keaton was introduced by Dr. Baumann, of Pittsburgh, international director.

Mr. Keaton paid tribute to Pennsylvania Lionism, which is second in point of membership and accomplishment.

Mr. Keaton spoke on the subject of "Values", in which he enumerated the many things which are of value in our lives, concluding with the thought that probably peace of mind is the thing of greatest value to us all. Because of it one is led to right living and to service toward his fellow man. Lionism is valuable, he stated, because its men of many creeds and lines of endeavor work together as a unit for good. Its reward is that life shall be greater and its builders less.

Charter Presented
The charter of Lions International was presented by Arch Hillard, of Erie, governor of district 14-F, to James Carine, president of the new club. In accepting Lionism, he stated, the members of the new club were accepting a challenge and picking something which is difficult. He called on Fred Andy, of Oil City, past district governor, to speak on what the acceptance of the state charter means. Mr. Carine, in accepting, stated that Pulaski Lions would try and live up to the challenge handed them and to carry out the principles of Lionism.

James Grunewald, of the New Bedford club, then presented membership certificates to the charter members, who include: John and Elmer Badila, Roy C. Bilger, G. W. and Cecil G. Cameron, James Carine, Charles C. Clark, Edwin T. Duff, Kenneth Harry, Elias and Wayne Reese, Paul J. Stewart, Francis Taylor, Lester S. Treese, Seth V. Vaughn, Rev. Merle Weaver, Clyde E. White, Donald Whiting, Raymond H. Young, Selwyn Lewis and Quincy McCombs.

Mr. Grunewald also presented the club with a gavel bell and set of flags, representing the 26 countries which now embrace Lionism. Music during the dinner was rendered by the Sinfonia String Trio, composed of Anthony Casero, Joseph F. Replogle and Ernest F. Bransetter.

The officers of the new Pulaski club are: president, James Carine; first vice president, Clyde E. White; second vice president, G. W. Cameron; third vice president, Donald Whiting; secretary, Edwin T. Duff; treasurer, Roy C. Bilger; Lion Tamer, Cecil G. Cameron; Tail Twister, Kenneth Harry; directors for one year, Paul J. Stewart, Lester S. Treese; directors for two years, Charles C. Clark, John Badila.

stians which the committee made public earlier this week.

He said the Chemetair Corp. of New York served as the broker for the transaction.

Urged For Long Time

Groves said the Russians had urged for a long time that the shipment be allowed. He declared that they approached both his subordinates in Washington as well as lend-lease officials in their efforts to obtain approval of the export of the uranium to the Soviet Union.

The retired general, clad in a blue civilian suit, said of the Russian attempts to obtain approval for the first shipment:

"The first attempt was officially urged by the Russians over a considerable period of time. They knew they had to have an export license before they could make the shipment. The approach was always made to my subordinates or to subordinates of the lend-lease organization."

Before going into a discussion of spying, Groves warned the committee that he must be bound by a presidential directive of Aug. 5, 1948, placing limits on secret data to be given congressional committees.

Acting Chairman Walter (D) Pa. told him the directive had been superseded by another, but Groves insisted it was given to him as the latest one, and that he would have to follow it.

said a "major break" in the coal dispute could be expected "within the next few days." He said about 25 area operators—some of them "large ones"—were ready to put their names to a new coal pact.

Harry A. Sutter, executive vice president of the Western Pennsylvania Coal Producers Association, declared however the group were only marginal producers and did not include any members of his organization. He said:

No Break In Ranks

"You can quote me: There is no break in the ranks of our members."

In Altoona, Walter A. Jones, secretary-treasurer of the Central Pennsylvania Coal Operators Association, reiterated that his group will have no contract dealings with Lewis except through the National Coal Operators Association.

President Cecil Urbaniak of UMW District 15 in Fairmont, W. Va., reported he had had talks with a number of operators in his district who had indicated their willingness to sign.

Almost simultaneously, Jesse V. Sullivan of the West Virginia Coal Association stated that the state's large operators would continue to resist Lewis' contract demands.

'DOLLAR DOES IT' GETS RESPONSE FROM CITY

operating for the benefit of the community's sick, needy and children, will be able to continue giving high class service during the coming year if each family in the area gives one additional dollar to the Chest.

Some are doing more than their part but eventual success requires the participation of all. One previous contributor gave $100 to the "Dollar Does It" campaign yesterday. R.P.O.E., Lodge 69, promised today to send an additional sum for "Dollar Does It". The Elks had already contributed $500 to the Chest Drive. What club or organization will be the next to add to the "Dollar Does It" total and help chalk up New Castle's major victory of the year, filling the Chest?

Start Chain Calls
An innovation of the pyramid club and the chain letter also made its appearance in New Castle today. This is a chain telephone call. The police have okayed the plan, and it's guaranteed to pay off.

At noon today fifteen women started making two telephone calls to two friends. The lady urges her friend to make an extra contribution to the Community Chest and to call two more of her friends and offer the same advice. No one is to break the chain. The fifteen ladies starting the chain have the complete backing of the Community Chest. The donations are to be made at the Community Chest office, East Washington street.

The campaign still needs to raise more than $25,000.

Everybody Gives. Everybody Benefits and a "Dollar Does It."

JEAN McCANDLESS WEDS ROBERT LASH

Miss Jean Ann McCandless, daughter of Mrs. Thelma McCandless, 1207 East Washington street, this city, and Robert L. Lash, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Lash, 329 Orchard avenue, Ellwood City, was quietly married on December 3, at 3 p. m. in the study of the Third United Presbyterian church.

The bride was becomingly a toast brown opera length gown of net over beige satin with a harmonizing headdress of bronze pom-poms.

A taupe gown with chocolate brown accents composed the costume of the matron of honor, Mrs. Kenneth Lash, Ellwood City. An orchid shoulder corsage complemented the attire.

Kenneth Lash, Ellwood City, brother of the bridegroom, was best man.

A dinner for the bridal party and immediate families was held in the Harvest room of The Castleton following the ceremony. Covers were laid for 20 guests and a three-tiered wedding cake centered the table, flanked by candelabra and greens.

Mr. and Mrs. Lash will reside at 1207 East Washington street. Mrs. Lash is a graduate of New Castle high school and Maison Felix Beauty school. Her husband was graduated from Ellwood high school and the Pennsylvania State Police school.

SWORDS AND PLOWSHARES

It is interesting to note that Russians are hearing a slightly different version of the way atomic energy is being used in the Soviet than that Vishinsky recently aired in the UN. The Russian foreign minister told the delegates at Lake Success that "right now we are razing mountains; we are irrigating deserts; we are spreading life, prosperity, happiness."

Pravda says he said "We want to put atomic energy to blowing up mountains, changing the course of rivers, etc."

Meanwhile a joint announcement by the Atomic Energy Commission and the Defense Department tells the world that advanced types of atomic weapons will be proof-fired soon in stricken straits at Eniwetok Atoll. Just a day earlier the AEC told of its current and projected plans for construction of reactors to make possible better applied research on problems of turning nuclear fission to peacetime uses.

As usual, no one can make head or tail out of the inconsistencies of Russian thinking and action. However, the case of the United States announcements, it becomes clear that this country has been working both sides of the street in nuclear fission.

The projected explosion of atomic weapons in mid-Pacific serves notice that Uncle Sam further shaped and tempered this weapon. At the same time the fact is implied that the sword may also in time become a plowshare. The rather lengthy public discussion of the hopeful prospects of using atomic energy to supply a basic human need—power—should serve notice that it is not tossed on the table as a propaganda card.

It should help to bring the force of world opinion to the side of the U. S. as this country continues to work for a peaceful solution to the future of a divided world that must live with the atomic bomb whether it likes it or not.

TIRING OF SOCIALISM

At this distance it is impossible to glimpse accurately the fine points of public sentiment that caused the people of New Zealand to oust their labor government and install a nationalist regime. But their action is additional proof that as civilized peoples experience the full blight of socialism, they eventually back away from it.

How next year's elections will come out in England remains to be seen, but predictions are unanimous that socialist majorities will at least be reduced after only five years of trial.

In the United States an increasing number of prominent citizens are raising their voices against the socialist trend. Many of these citizens helped put the present policies in effect. New Zealand was a pioneer in utopian. Americans have frequently cited that country as statistic.

Now the inhabitants of utopia are unhappy about something. At least they have issued orders to the politicians to head in a new direction.

WORLD AIR VOCABULARY

Sitting around an airport control tower, the person with an untrained ear has good reason to wonder how tower operators succeed in unscrambling the mass of glibberish and static that comes in from planes aloft. He is puzzled, too, how a pilot with one, two or four engines roaring at his elbow and all manner of atmospheric disturbance clouding his receiving channel understands what the tower is trying to tell him.

Other variables, such as foreign accents, sloppy diction, northern twangs and southern drawls, further complicate the problem of keeping the thin thread of communication intact.

The Civil Aeronautics Administration, with the speck of the nation's worst air crash at Washington still fresh in its memory, has under way a study out of which may come a standard "air vocabulary" for air to air and air to ground communication.

The CAA knows that 75 per cent of all air mishaps are due to pilot failure, and that "word confusion" may have been the cause of the collision over the National Airport on November 1. It feels certain that a drastic cleanup of communications procedures may be the only means of lowering the accident curve in the face of booming air traffic.

Warfare research by the three armed services has done much to streamline communication chatter. Certain words and word patterns go over the air better and are less confusing than others. Starting with these, the CAA will build a standard vocabulary, bit by bit, until it is broad enough to take in almost, if not all, situations that might arise. Once a standard word list is in hand, the CAA will push for international recognition of it, so that it will become a universal communications code, much like the international signal flags used at sea.

The importance of this project is something that cannot be underlined too heavily. Pilots aids and ground and airborne navigational instruments have succeeded in taking off and landing safely in all sorts of weather. But there is still no gadget available to replace the human ear and comprehension in receiving a message and translating it into action.

It's a chain with one weak link, and the CAA feels it knows the way to correct it. If it succeeds, the gains realized in terms of human life and property will be immeasurable.

In View Of News Of The World

By J. C. OESTREICHER, INS Foreign Director

The statement of German Chancellor Dr. Konrad Adenauer that he opposes revival of an independent German army raised today an intriguing question to which it would be difficult to find an answer.

Namely, in event of emergency or if a "new fuhrer" came along with some sort of practical plan for world domination, what enthusiasm could be whipped up among the rank and file on behalf of a new military adventure?

It is oversimplification to say that the Germans are naturally a warlike people and take to uniforms like Englishmen do to striped pants.

And it may not be entirely correct to assume that in every German breast there is an intense desire to achieve vengeance for two crushing defeats in many generations.

Hand In Hand

There is no question but that Prussian aristocracy and militarism always have gone hand in hand. It is equally true that the vast majority of Adolf Hitler's Blackshirts and Brownshirts for the second world war with high anticipation.

But some definite reservations are necessary. In the first place, Hitler made military service an extremely attractive vocation. Marshal Herman Goerring's clarification that "Guns instead of butter" was not an empty phrase.

Civilians made many sacrifices for the construction of a German army that almost defeated the world.

The best material available went into German army uniforms and the best food obtainable appeared at army messes.

Towns Taken Over

Before the war and during the early stages of it, entire resort towns were taken over by the Nazis to serve the uses of officers and men on leave. The best hotels were requisitioned as rest homes. Virtually the entire German theatre was turned over to the military.

And when in action, rotation of front-line men was rapid and often. Frontline food was good and the medical service superb. But—and this is a very large but—it took the most extensive propaganda service in the world to keep this army keyed up for action whenever the slightest thing went wrong.

Lies and deception were commonplace in the office of Paul Joseph Goebbels. So was flattery.

The Parent Problem

By Garry C. Myers, Ph. D.

GIRL WHO TENDS TO OVEREAT

You and I know some persons who, being suddenly aware that they were too heavy to be as healthy and attractive as they could be, have set about to discipline themselves to eat only the quality and quantity of foods they know they should. We admire these persons for their marvelous exercise of will power. A mother writes of her daughter thirteen years of age:

"She is 5'3" tall and weighs 135 pounds. She is a large eater and ordinarily eats a lot of bread, potatoes, and until the last month has eaten some candy and an average of a bottle of pop a day. However, she has stopped eating the candy and pop, and has lost about two pounds the last month."

Good Figure

"She has a very good well-developed figure except that she is 29" around the waist and has an unusually large stomach and abdomen, and it is almost impossible to buy well-fitting clothes for her. "She feels very badly about this and wants to take medicine which our doctors here sometimes give, which makes the desire for food less. This also has a bad effect on nerves. I am told."

"She and I read your column and we would certainly appreciate your advice on this matter, which we will carry out. I am enclosing a self-addressed stamped envelope. "P. S. We have read your advice on self-control in eating, but my daughter desires an easier way out. If you think it would not be harmful, I will take her to a doctor. She seems very healthy."

Glandular Cause

Here is about the way I replied. As you know, medical science has discovered that, while excessive overweight can have a glandular cause, it very rarely does. The cause of your daughter's obesity seems very obvious, yet you should have her checked by a competent medical specialist.

However, I can hardly imagine a physician who heeds to the high ethics of his profession being willing to give your daughter or anybody else a drug just to reduce her appetite. Nor can I imagine that lovely daughter of yours, after thinking carefully over the matter wanting to purchase with money an escape from self-control. Since by self-discipline concerning candy and pop she has been able to lose weight, see how precise the imperishables she might buy with mere effort!

Please tell your daughter I can understand what a battle she faces for I am a bit overweight myself. But I know how happy she will be when she will have won in this hard fight. And with your kind persuasive help and her good stuff of character, I'm sure she will win. Maybe she will write me later just how she did win and let me pass it along for helping other youths and adults. Perhaps I should also report to her my own progress in this combat.

BIBLE THOUGHT

When thou hast eaten and art full, then thou shalt bless the Lord thy God for the good land which he hath given thee. Beware that thou forget not the Lord thy God.—Deut. 8: 10, 11.

Germans in action were on the receiving end of a ceaseless barrage of praise and promises; any defeatist elements were quickly and quietly dealt with.

A story is told of a near mutiny in one German regiment in the earliest days of the invasion of France. The troops had been told that French units at a certain strategic spot had "sold out" to fifth columnists and would not fight.

So the Germans went rumbling down the road and across the fields, singing their "Lili Marlene" and other army songs until a burst of fire sent them spinning.

The French at that spot stayed and fought—and fought hard. American correspondents who were accompanying the Germans in these days before American involvement tell how consternation and incredulity swept through the ranks, to turn into resentment against Goebbels, against their officers and even against Hitler.

They were brought into line and eventually won the battle but protests from the high command silenced Goebbels—for a little while anyway.

Lads In Service

Hitler's massive army delved in the closing days of the war into the ranks of schoolboys. The lads among them who survived now are just at the proper age for officers and non-coms and a poll might produce evidence of a decided disinclination to fight again.

Certainly it became clear when entire German armies surrendered to American forces in the spring of 1945 that Germany's military fervor had spent itself.

Many of the soldiers had been alive when their fathers were killed, wounded or captured in the first world war and they saw with blinding clarity that they had been led into disaster again.

Doubtless there are military fanatics in Germany, both old and young. But as for the average, there must be millions inclined to say: "Enough is enough" and who might prove now to be really ardent pacifists. They have reason to be, in any case.

ABOUT BOYS

A healthy boy is prone to shout and keep on racing in and out and bang the door behind him, to. But if these things he doesn't do. To worry parents should begin. It's time to call the doctor in.

A boy of twelve is one who can eat twice as much as any man. He'll down the largest wedge of pie. And ask a second by and by. But, if he doesn't, that's the day to call the doctor right away.

A boy of ten won't go to bed 'til by the hand or ear he's led. "So soon." He'll shout: "It's only eight."

It may be dark, but it's not late." But, if in bed he's glad to get up. For him the doctor you should call.

A healthy boy does things like these: His little sister he will tease. He'll pinch her arm and pull her hair. Bring in a dead mouse just to scare. But, if he sits alone and still. The chances are he needs a pill.

From Me To You

By MESEALL

Monday we wrote a short item about a certain truck being seen on the New Sunday evening. . . it looked like a city truck. . . We definitely made a mistake. . . It was not a City of New Castle truck. . . it was the City of New Castle Water Company truck. . . We ask the pardon of the City Fathers if we caused them embarrassment.

Remember what day this is. . . December 7th. . . Asking around this morning, we found several who said yes, this was Wednesday. . . Completely forgotten was Pearl Harbor December 7th, 1941.

But fortunately there were more who did remember than forgot. . . We should never. . . we can't afford to ever forget December 7th, 1941. . . So very much happened that day and the long years following. . . will it happen again. Will the peoples of the world have that life or a worse life to live again? Yes, unless we people get off our fat sitters and get busy.

We sit around and talk. . . talk, talk, talk. . . all the talk in the world. . . a bit of good unless we the people start doing something concrete to keep peace. . . Those who wish for a change. . . a change to some other way of life. . . are not sitting around talking. . . No indeed, they are out working night and day. . . Electing men and women to public office. . . keeping alive the theory that Santa Claus is supposed to visit every American City every day of the year.

Too many people are content to sit back and get something-for-nothing. . . brag about the privilege few. . . who are the privileged few. . . Not the very rich who have the privilege of paying over 90 per cent of their income to the government in taxes. . . Surely not the capitalists. . . there are more of them than anything else. . . Every person who owns a share of stock is a capitalist. . . It is quite a privilege to be able to shut down the coal mines, or blockades the Hawaiian Islands. . . The most potent privilege any man can hold is power over another man's right to work.

Yes, it is time we awaken. . . no more December 7ths, like in 1941.

Most Valuable Player

(By HENRY McLEMORE)

As a holder of a membership card in the Baseball Writer's Association of America, I feel that I am entitled to express an opinion on the rightness or wrongness of Ted Williams, of the Boston Red Sox, being given the Most Valuable Player Award for 1949.

It seems that everyone but the writers who chose Williams is up in arms because one of two Yankees, Phil Rizzuto or Joe Page, was not tapped for this honor. Feeling is particularly high here in New York, and around a place like Toots Shor's it is an open invitation to get a whack on the nose even to suggest that Williams was the logical choice over the Yankee shortstop and the Yankee relief pitcher.

Having a very durable nose and one which is accustomed to punishment, I'd like to say that Williams is not only the most valuable player in the American League this season, but will continue to be the most valuable player in the league for the next four or five years.

Would Be Eager To Trade Rizzuto is a magnificent shortstop. There can be no denying that, and Joe Page is a most illustrious relief pitcher, but it is my guess that the Yankees would be more than willing to send both of them by airmail to Boston in exchange for Brother Williams. If he is not the outstanding performer in baseball today, I would hate to hang my thumbs until someone found a man who was.

How in the world can you rate a relief pitcher in the same classification with a man of Williams' magnitude? The very name "relief" pitcher should bar a man from the honor.

Cardinal Moley, English cardinal and statesman, was born in Ipswich about 1475. He is said to have graduated from college at 15. He rose rapidly, became the king's chaplain. He was made archbishop of York, then cardinal. He had immense influence and interfered constantly in politics of his own country and those of others. He grew to be hated by the English Parliament and the nobility, and falling out of favor with the king, he surrendered all his preferences except the bishopric of York. He was finally involved in a charge of treason. Summoned to London, he died on the way, Nov. 30, 1530. Shakespeare, in one of his historical plays, makes him say, "Had I but served my God with half the zeal I served my king, He would not, in mine age have left me naked to mine enemies."

Tom Mix was one of the most beloved motion picture actors of westerns less than 10 years ago. He was born in El Paso, Tex., Jan. 6, 1880, and when but a boy rode the plains as a cowboy. During the Spanish-American war he was one of Teddy Roosevelt's Rough Riders. His first film was Rough Riders Romance, then followed Three Gold Coins, The Untamed, and many others. He was also a writer for the screen and a director. He was killed in an auto accident Oct. 12, 1940.

Many new drivers are taking to the highways every day in Troop D area. Several of our high schools are giving our boys and girls their initial training under actual driving conditions. This great influx of inexperienced drivers presents a special problem in highway safety and the experienced operator should be alert for signs of inexperience in other drivers and regulate their driving accordingly.

The Health Of Mr. Kramer

(By Holmes Alexander)

Mr. Leo Kramer, 2737 San Marino St., Los Angeles, California.

Dear Sir:

Your letter of November 25th takes exception to my column on the nation's health, and I am glad to reply point by point.

First off, we are not going to agree on basic principles. I'm saying that the government doesn't owe you and me a damned thing except honest administration of its Constitutional duties and protection against enemies of the American republic.

The Federal government was not established to pull your teeth, snatch your tonsils or bind up any wounds except those incurred in fighting your country's battles. Least of all, there any obligation on the government to insure you and me against the natural hazards of being free men. We're going to have our life's share of defeat, failure, hard luck and tragedy. These are the tolls we pay as we travel the highway of humanity, and each man has to pay his own way out of his purse of courage and resilience.

Wishful Delusion

It's a wishful delusion to believe that any help really comes from the marble temples of Federalized bureaucracy. And it's a cruel, quackish politico who foists this delusion off on trusting people in return for their votes. Better, Mr. Kramer, that a ballot box were tied about the neck of every such political quack and that he be dropped into the nearest ocean.

You say that you "heartily agree with those persons who shy away from the so-called voluntary (health insurance) outfits". In so saying, you join with those who prefer to wait for the free ride. But, Mr. Kramer, there isn't going to be any free ride. Federalized health insurance can only be financed out of taxes, paid by you and me. Moreover, these taxes will not only go to pay Federalized doctors, nurses and medical care; they'll go to pay the politicians and bureaucrats who dwell in those marble temples, thanks to the votes which are exchanged for unfulfillable promises. If you need an example of Federalized care of human beings, look at the Indians—or what's left of them. Then ask yourself whether you'd rather be a free man, badly bothered about his future but daring to face it, or a ward of the great Federalized father in Washington.

Something Wrong Here

You tell me that you have "belonged to the Blue Cross for three or four years. Last year (you continue) my little daughter needed a tonsil operation and I spent $155 for medical and hospital care, and all I got from the Blue Cross was $18". Something's wrong here, Mr. Kramer. I have before me the standard agreements of the Hospital Service (Blue Cross) of Southern California. If you paid your family dues of $3.30 a month and if your daughter was between the ages of 30 days and 19 years, a bona fide patient, then she was entitled to: "21 days care in ward accommodations . . . plus 180 days at 50% of the regular hospital rates".

I have asked the proper authorities here to check into this case history and see where the mix-up lies. I'll write you later about that. Meanwhile, lest anyone think that your story is typical, I give an example of a Blue Cross child patient in the District of Columbia. This was a diagnosis of rheumatic fever. "Thirty days in a juvenile ward came to $225; sterile tray service to $67.50; penicillin, streptomycin and similar drugs to $2283.30; sera and oxygen to $22.50, and "other" services to $199.25. The total was $2797.55, and the Blue Cross paid all except 22.50 of this whopping bill.

No Dentistry Coverage

You say further in your letter that you "had to replace one tooth and a dentist did it for me for the paltry sum of $135". I don't know if you mean this as an indictment of the Blue Cross, or the Blue Shield, the affiliated medical surgery service, but the Blue Shield specifically does not offer dentistry coverage. If you think the bill too steep, I suggest you refer it to the local chapter of the American Dental Association, giving the man's name. There is no need to pass a Federal law in order to adjust a disagreement between you and your dentist.

Finally you toss me the question: "Under the present circumstances can a workingman afford proper medical care?" Go back and read your contract with Blue Cross and Blue Shield. . . Go back and read a deal of protection for extended illnesses up to 201 days a year and also a provision for low-income persons under the medical-surgery plan. The fine print says that the Blue Shield will pay "in full" the charge of any participating physician "if the income of a family subscriber does not exceed $2500". This—a blank check for surgery—is insurance which you speak so scornfully of.

Your letter, Mr. Kramer, demands that I reply. I've done so in hope that a view of the facts will change your mind. There are plenty of troubles this side of the grave, but there's no solution for them in a Welfare State.

Looking At Life

By ERICH BRANDEIS

Have men really more confidence in women than women have in themselves?

A few weeks ago I wrote that if a woman is good enough to be a President's mother, why shouldn't a woman be good enough to be President?

You should see the letters that have been pouring in. Ninety per cent said I didn't know what I was talking about. Women would never make good presidents, wrote most of them. Women don't even make good politicians.

Now here is the funny part: Of that 90 per cent, a great many of them came from WOMEN. Of the other 10 per cent most came from men. And most of them agreed with me.

But today I received a letter from Mrs. Joseph S. Graf of Hollywood, Calif., whose views should give all of us men something to chew on. "I'll quote part of it. See whether you agree."

"Your article about a woman for President expressed some of my sentiments," writes Mrs. Graf. "I have often wondered just what effect it would have on our nation should we ever have a woman President."

"You know the old saying that men are like little boys that never grow up. I actually feel that most of them really expect a wife to MOTHER them, no matter how old they get."

"We both know that little boys enjoy playing cops and robbers, have mock gun battles, scrap and fight, match their strength against each other."

"It has always been an accepted fact that they are just normal."

Volunteers Gorge On Sauerkraut, Pork

Park Avenue Volunteers Demonstrate How Sauerkraut Dinner Should Be Prepared

There's an affinity between porkers and cabbage that comes to fruition fully in an old fashioned sauer kraut dinner. Given the proper ingredients and sufficient time, a sauer kraut dinner becomes a gastronomic delight surpassed by few if any viands.

All of which is prefatory to saying that the volunteer firemen of the Park avenue station had a sauer kraut dinner Tuesday night at the station that was done to a queen's turn, not that a queen deserves more of a turn than an ordinary mortal.

Done in old German style, the kraut and pork were baked all day Tuesday, the better to get them used to each other's company and at 7 o'clock Tuesday night the men of the department served it to a group of about 25.

John Hite, Bill Melver and Roy Jones had charge of the dinner and the program. The dinner was not spoiled by too much program and the entire evening was a pleasure.

Mayor John F. Haven, Councilmen Joseph D. Alexander, James Gibson, Richard I. Davis and Albert A. Hoyland spoke briefly as did William G. Ayres, veteran volunteer member of the Park avenue company.

"Assignment; America"

By INEZ ROBB

(Distributed By International News Service)

NEW YORK, Dec. 7.—(INS)—of flying, particularly in messy weather. When Albert (Pete) E. Blomquist asked me to come up to see his blueprints sometime, I at least gave him credit for a new approach.

The invitation grew out of a party where my life-long habit of eavesdropping paid off when I heard a man say that the most popular misconception concerning air transportation today is the fixed belief that there is limitless space in the wild blue yonder.

"An airport can hold more planes on the ground than it can safely afford to have stacked up stairs, waiting to land," said the man. "People seem to think the sky is the limit and can keep stacking 'em up indefinitely. It isn't true and it certainly isn't safe."

The man turned out to be Mr. Blomquist, internationally famous transportation engineer, who is now up to his ears planning an international air line for the Israeli Ministry of Transport, as well as its air and marine systems.

Used to Big Jobs
(Mr. Blomquist is used to big jobs. As an officer in the air force in World War II, he did the logistical planning for airborne operations for the combined chiefs of staff and helped develop gliders, carrier craft and equipment for fighting planes.)

The American engineer, whose ears are six feet three inches from the ground (the Blomquist all-over length is six feet six inches) went on to express his hope that Israel will set up his "failure proof" airport approach and take-off system.

Mr. Blomquist worked it out in 1947 when the Port Authority of New York asked him to study its air problems. But he is firmly convinced that its national adaptation would take much of the hazard out vices is exactly what aviation needs."

He believes, for instance, that the New York area needs an aerial "yard" with four main sky tracks, fifty-five miles in length, each ten miles apart and with a top altitude of 9,000 feet. Furthermore, he would turn every pilot into a flying Casey Jones. His cockpit would be equipped with the same automatic block signal devices as a locomotive cab.

"One central signal tower would control an entire area," Mr. Blomquist said. "Signals would do the whole business. There would be no more of this romantic but dangerous business of 'talking a pilot in.'"

"This new equipment at all times would show the pilot exactly where he is within the yard. Sometimes it takes twenty eternal minutes, in which anything can happen, to get voice instructions.

"But with this automatic equipment adopted from the railroads' proved safety system, a pilot can

Agree To Keep Chinese Case On UN Agenda

Ambassador Jessup Informs Political Committee He Will Support Amendment

LAKE SUCCESS, N. Y., Dec. 7.—(INS)—The United States agreed Tuesday to keeping Nationalist China's case on the United Nations agenda for 1950.

U. S. Ambassador-at-Large Philip C. Jessup informed the political committee he will support a Philippine amendment to the Latin-American resolution referring the Chinese issue to the "little assembly." This step was taken on the assumption that the political committee will approve the U. S. motion for an "open door" policy in China.

Salvador Lopez of the Philippines cleared the way for a retreat by Jessup on his opposition to the Latin-American offer by submitting an amendment under which the little assembly would decide for itself whether Russia has violated charter principles. In agreeing to this amendment, Jessup said:

"We are confronted with a serious situation in China and Asia as a whole. It is important that when the assembly speaks on this question, it should speak with a united voice."

Uruguay also presented an amendment calling for security council scrutiny of China's aggression charges against Russia.

JACOBS APPOINTED SPECIAL ASSISTANT

WASHINGTON, Dec. 7.—(INS)—The State department Tuesday appointed Joseph E. Jacobs, former ambassador to Czechoslovakia, as a special assistant to Ambassador James C. Dunn in handling the arms aid program in Rome. It also appointed Charles E.

Bohlen, formerly State department counselor and now minister counselor in Paris, to give similar assistance to Ambassador to France David K. E. Bruce.

To the Man Who Is Worried About His Friends ...

OCCASIONALLY, we encounter a man who hesitates to buy a Cadillac for fear his friends might think him ostentatious.

For all such people, we have the most reassuring news: The experience of Cadillac owners would indicate that your fears are without foundation.

True, the world has long since recognized that a Cadillac car is a fine and distinguished possession—but most people understand that quality is not a luxury, and that distinction is the offspring of long-continued goodness.

The facts in support of Cadillac's practicality are so convincing that the recital of just a few should be sufficient reassurance for anyone.

Take, for instance, the matter of cost. There are eight other makes of cars which actually have models priced above the lowest-priced Cadillac. Yes—thousands of the motorists you see on the highways paid more for their cars than the man who sits at the wheel of a Cadillac "61".

And, oh, the other facts in support of Cadillac's value!

There is long life, for example. Four Cadillacs, of the 1942 Series, ran a total of 2,599,000 miles in a test recently concluded by a great tire manufacturer—almost 650,000 miles per car.

All four were then sold into private service.

Then there is economy. Innumerable tests show that the 1949 Cadillac actually approaches the lowest-priced popular cars in gasoline economy. Few cars will run farther on a gallon of gasoline!

And, finally, there are the dependability records—records which prove beyond dispute, that the car's freedom from the need of repairs is just as unusual as its performance and beauty!

Yes—if you are ready for a Cadillac, come in and place your order. You will never make a more sensible purchase—or one of which your friends will more heartily approve.

Potential Atom Bomb Stockpile Being Increased

Director Of Reactor Development For Atomic Energy Commission Gives Report

PITTSBURGH, Dec. 7.—(INS)—Dr. Lawrence R. Hafstad, director of reactor development for the Atomic Energy commission, said Tuesday that the nation's "potential atom bomb stockpile" is being multiplied by 140.

Hafstad told the atomic energy symposium of the American Institute of Chemical Engineers that under the reactor program unusable U-238 is being converted into usable fissionable plutonium. He explained:

"This is no mean achievement, for the supply of U-238 is 140 times as great as that of U-235."

"The rate of augmentation of our supply promises to be very slow at best, but we are increasing the potentially available supply of fissionable material—the potential atom bomb stockpile—if you like—by a factor of 140. This is a goal worth shooting at."

Military Necessity

The AEC official said that although nuclear reactors now are "very costly" they are a military necessity because "it behooves this nation to keep in the forefront of reactor technology." He added:

"At Hanford fissionable materials for atom bombs are produced in great nuclear reactors, and, sooner or later, the design of these reactors will become obsolete."

"Thus, with the present international atmosphere, a large fraction of the enormous cost of our reactor program must be charged to military necessity."

Hafstad predicted that the costs of reactors "will certainly drop over the next several years."

He declared that it also is conceivable that "sometime in the future the cost of atomic power, high though it be, will be less than the cost of power from other sources."

Owner Of Gaming Equipment Slated For Second Trial

HARRISBURG, Dec. 7.—(INS)—The case of seven tons of punchboards and other gaming equipment seized by police at a Harrisburg warehouse was slated for a second appearance at court.

Dauphin County Court Judge Robert E. Woodside, Jr., granted a new trial to Charles Vernon Handmore, Harrisburg, found guilty on two charges growing out of storage of seven tons of punchboards and sundries May 17.

Attorneys for Handmore made an unsuccessful bid to dismiss the charges without further trial.

Handmore was convicted June 6 on a charge of assembling gaming devices. The following day a grand jury indicated him on a charge of engaging in the traffic of lottery. Woodside judged him guilty on the second charge.

Gillette Calls For Report From Coffee Traders In New York

Chairman Of Senate Investigating Committee Calls On Houses For Lists

WASHINGTON, Dec. 7.—(INS)—Sen. Gillette (D) Iowa, called on New York's biggest coffee traders Tuesday for a report on what speculators made money out of the sudden rise in coffee prices. Gillette, chairman of a Senate price investigating subcommittee, called on brokerage houses to submit lists of clients showing whether they were "long" or "short" on coffee futures on November 30. Gillette had charged earlier that big speculators "drove up the price" in order to make prices on "long holdings."

At the same time, an Office of International Trade spokesman, Albert Proberman of the food branch, told the subcommittee that there is plenty of coffee in the world.

He submitted a telegram from the U. S. Embassy in Rio de Janeiro estimating that the 1950 coffee harvest will exceed the 1949 output by one-half million to one million 100-pound bags.

Says Some Coal Operators Will Sign Contracts

PITTSBURGH, Dec. 7.—(INS)—John P. Busarello, president of District 5 of the United Mine Workers, said about 25 operators in the Pittsburgh area—"some of them large"—are on the verge of signing new contracts with the union.

Busarello said he has been in contact with the operators, and expects the contracts to be signed within "a few days."

Asked if this would be the first break of the operator's solid resistance to UMW demands, Busarello replied:

"I'll say this—when the tonnage hits the market, somebody's going to get squeezed."

Busarello would not reveal the identity of any of the operators or the terms of the proposed agreements.

A Western Pennsylvania Coal Operators association spokesman said if any negotiations are pending they "must be with small operators who are not members of the association."

Court House

Jurors Approve
Detention HomeWay Cleared For Commissioners To Let Contract
For Home In SpringOTHER EVENTS
IN COURT HOUSE

All steps necessary to the erection of a new detention home for Lawrence county have been taken, the final step being the approval of the plans by the December grand jury.

The plans were presented to the grand jury by County Commissioners Harvey B. Bush, Joseph W. Gilmore and Joseph F. Travers and the jury agreed with them.

Advertising for bids will be the next step and this will probably be done early in 1950. The estimated cost will be between $50,000 and $65,000, with the commissioners building the home out of current funds if possible.

GRAND JURY RETURN

In the return of the grand jury, true bills were returned against 11 defendants although one not a true bill was returned against a defendant against whom a true bill was returned in another case.

The true bills follow: William G. Cowles, driving while intoxicated; Allen Robert Kirsch, armed robbery; Dorothy L. McElligott, fraudulent recovery of an automobile; James Ginochi, morals charge. Not a true bill was returned against this defendant in a more serious morals charge.

Russell Baxter, assault and battery with attempt to ravish; Harlan Mone, aggravated assault and battery, also a morals charge; John Lee Perkins, burglary; James W. Hennon, driving while intoxicated; Sulo Laitinen, failure to stop and disclose identity. Wilbur F. Hummel, driving while intoxicated. Jack McCort, driving while intoxicated.

True bills were also returned against the following defendants to stay the statute of limitations. They are presently outside the jurisdiction of the Lawrence county court but with a true bill returned can be tried any time they can be apprehended.

Paul J. Rinker, separation and neglect to support wife and minor child; Clifford Kenney, separation and neglect to support wife and minor child; Willis Cooper, morals charge; Albert Sankey, morals charge; Michael Tumis, neglect to support a minor child.

A motion for continuance was granted in the case against Richard Peete on a morals charge.

BIG INCH LINE

Leases for rights of way for the construction of a "big inch" gas line through Lawrence county have started. In the Office of Register and Recorder Orville Potter, leases have been granted to the Tennessee Gas Transmission company by R. D. Harman, Harry E. Emery, L. R. Shidley and E. L. Paden of Mahoning and North Beaver townships.

The line when completed will run from Texas into New York state and eventually into Boston, Mass. Present plans call for the construction of the 16-inch line from Kentucky through Ohio, through Mahoning, North Beaver, Pulaski and Wilmington townships of Lawrence county, through Mercer, Crawford and Erie counties in Pennsylvania and then through Chataqua, Cattaraugus counties in New York and into Buffalo.

A branch line will take off from near Bessemer to go into the Beaver valley. When completed the line will handle 190 million cubic feet of natural gas per day.

EQUITY SUITS

Suits in equity have been filed in the office of Prothonotary and Clerk of Courts John A. Edgar as follows:

Gilbert A. Cox files a suit against his former wife, Dorothy L. Cox, for partition of property held jointly by the two.

Roy C. Shaffer and wife ask an annulment of the marriage of their daughter, Margaret E. Shaffer, to Dale Harris. It is alleged Harris took the girl to Russell, Ky., and there induced her to swear she was 21 years of age when she was only 16.

Myrie Walsh files a suit against A. J. Visceri asking for an accounting of the books of a partnership said to have been formed between him and Visceri, his brother and another brother, Charles Visceri. The partnership was a coal mining partnership. Walsh claims he worked the mine from February 1, 1948, on and in July Charles Visceri withdrew. Later Walsh was hurt. He wants an accounting of the finances.

Stream Pollution
Brings Heavy Fine

HARRISBURG, Dec. 7.—(INS)—The fish commission has received a $10,000 check from the Daugherty Refinery at Petrolia, in Butler county as a court ordered payment for killing fish via sulphuric acid waste in a tributary of the Allegheny river.

The refinery also paid a $1,000 fine after the commonwealth won its initial criminal prosecution for violation of the pure streams act.

Secondary Recovery
Helps Up Oil Supply

Man's Battle With Nature Uncovering Oil Reserves In Supposedly Dead Areas

NEW ORLEANS, Dec. 7.—(INS)—Man's battle with nature is uncovering new oil reserves in areas once thought to have expended their natural resources.

Representatives of oil producing states agree in New Orleans that the "secondary recovery" methods are increasing this nation's potential oil reserves, even though more oil is being taken from the ground than ever before.

Dr. Charles R. Fetteke, professor of geology at the Carnegie Institute of Technology, said secondary recovery has kept wells operating and prevented whole Pennsylvania towns from becoming ghost towns.

Secondary recovery is a method of pushing oil to the surface after it has lost its own sub-surface pressure and no longer spurts as it does when a well first comes in.

Recycling is one method. Gas, generally burned off at the well, is now piped back into the ground in a number of instances to send more oil to the surface.

President's Weight Reducing Contest Ends In Dead Heat

Contest Between Truman, Graham And Vaughan Got Started In October

KEY WEST, Fla., Dec. 7.—(INS)—President Truman's weight-reducing contest ended Tuesday in a dead heat.

At least that is the official version. But neither the president nor his two military aides, Maj. Gen. Harry Vaughan and Brig. Gen. Wallace Graham, the presidential physician, were telling about their weight.

Gen. Graham, the youngest of the trio, looks as though he may have taken off some weight. Vaughan looks as well fed as ever, while the president has not gotten visibly thinner.

The contest to lose weight began in October when the president remarked to his two aides while spending a weekend in Charlottesville, Va., that they were getting so big he couldn't "see around" them. The agreed pay-off was ten dollars a pound.

Tongue-in-cheek, Press Secretary Charles Ross said the contest has ended in "a dead heat." He said each contestant had lost between three and four pounds. The president's weight was announced at 177.

Governor Demands Harrisburg Act

HARRISBURG, Dec. 7.—(INS)—Health Secretary Norris W. Vaux today told Harrisburg officials that Gov. James H. Duff demanded the city to initiate a sewage treatment program.

Vaux advised Mayor Claude Robins that other municipalities are eyeing Harrisburg's apparent reticence to comply with objectives of the clean streams program. Robins said the city's tardiness stemmed from determination to learn whether the commonwealth intends to build a bridge over the Susquehanna river in South Harrisburg.

rather than show off their STRENGTH.

"Women are more concerned with the LITTLE things—the little things that make the BIG things."

"No argument has ever been settled by force. Even when husband and wife argue, the thing is always kept hanging in mid-air unless they reason, understand, forgive and love."

"Yes, I feel that a mother should have a chance at the presidency. What mother would want to send her son into battle? What mother would give her whole life to the rearing of fine children into useful citizens, only to have them used for gun fodder?"

"Men turn to their women for strength and courage. For twenty years I constantly had to encourage my husband when he was blue and had lost confidence in himself."

"Women love more than men. They have more spiritual feeling and more understanding than men."

"And aren't love and understanding the only things that can save this world from disaster?"

I think Mrs. Graf has something there.

Why not try a woman for President?

It's bound to be fun—and it may even be good sense!

Anniversary Of Death Recalls Life Of Tragedy

By EDWIN HOFFMAN
(U. S. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, Dec. 7.—Sixty years ago Tuesday Jefferson Davis, the West Pointer who became president of the Confederacy, died at New Orleans, an historic figure who knew tragedy in both public and private life.

The anniversary of Davis' death recalls a fact seldom remembered: He was the son-in-law of Gen. Zachary Taylor, twelfth president of the United States.

Strange Chapter
Davis' relationship to Taylor was a strange chapter in the dramatic story of the man who is revered throughout the south for his leadership of a lost cause.

The two men met at Fort Crawford, Wis., in 1832, during the Indian wars. Taylor was a colonel of volunteers. Davis, a towering, square-jawed young lieutenant of the regular army.

Taylor welcomed Davis into his home. It was love at first sight between the young Kentuckian and the colonel's daughter, Sarah.

But the course of true love was impeded by a violent quarrel between Taylor and Davis. The difference stemmed from a court martial in which Davis cast a vote contrary to the wishes of his superior officer. Taylor thundered: "Never enter my house again!"

Jefferson Davis, undeterred, wrote the lovely Sarah: "Your father says I shall never enter your house again. But I love you and want you for my wife."

Taylor Was Furious
Taylor was furious. So was Davis—and a duel was threatened. But the colonel temporarily solved the problem by having Davis transferred hundreds of miles away.

Sarah promised Davis "I'll never marry anyone else." She kept her promise. Three years later, Davis resigned his commission, joined his fiancée at the Kentucky home of her aunt, Mrs. John Gibson Taylor, and, overcoming towering obstacles, married her.

The newlyweds sailed down the Mississippi to Davis' plantation, Briarfield, on Palmyra island. There, Jeff Davis spent the happiest months of his life.

But the happiness was doomed to turn to sorrow. Both Davis and Sarah fell ill, of malaria, and the young bride died.

Married Again
Some 10 years later, Davis married again and about the same time encountered Taylor, then on his way to lead U. S. troops preparing for the war against Mexico. The men were reconciled.

Later, Davis earned Taylor's praise for conspicuous gallantry at the battle of Buena Vista. "Old Rough and Ready" admitted: "My daughter was a better judge of character than I."

In 1848, Davis served as chairman of the committee of notification which formally reported to Taylor that he had been elected president.

Taylor died a little over a year after he took office. Thus, he was to know nothing of the Civil War

Franco To Offer Vatican Hammers

Spanish Hammer Would Be Used At Basilica Of Santa Maria

December 24

ROME, Dec. 7.—(INS)—Generalissimo Franco says he will offer the Vatican one of the gold and silver hammers to be used in opening Basilica doors at the start of Holy Year December 24.

Franco is maintaining the tradition of Spanish leaders with his offer.

The Spanish hammer would be used at the Basilica of Santa Maria Maggiore, one of four at which the ceremony will take place.

Rope Pius XII will lead the ritual at St. Peter's. He has designated three cardinal legates to lead ceremonies at Santa Maria Maggiore, St. Paul's and St. John Lateran.

The pontiff will use a gold and silver hammer being fashioned by a veteran Vatican specialist in the art, Prof. Aurelio Mistruzzi. The money to pay for the tools was contributed, in small amounts, by a half million Italian workers, including some Communists.

Pope Pius will rap the holy door three times, intoning a prayer each time, and the door will open.

Social Security Tax Increases With January 1

PITTSBURGH, Dec. 7.—Uncle Sam is going to increase his "take-out" from your "take-home" pay next month.

Beginning January 1, the Social Security tax will be raised from a penny on the dollar to 1½ cents. The employer also will have to boost his contribution to match that of his workers.

The higher tax, however, won't mean more Social Security benefits. That's because the benefits are figured on how much you earn—not on what rate of tax you pay.

First Increase

Throughout Western Pennsylvania, the boost in the Social Security tax will cost workers more than $16,000,000 next year. Employers will have to raise their payments by a like amount.

The increase is the first in the Social Security tax rate since the payroll levy went on the books in 1937.

$45 Maximum "Take-Out"

The Social Security office here explained yesterday that the new levy will apply to all wages paid after January 1—regardless of when they were earned.

The levy still will affect only the first $3,000 earned during the year. Thus, the maximum Social Security "take-out" for any individual will be $45 for the year instead of the present $30.

The Internal Revenue bureau reported it collected $64,555,173 from employers and employees last year in the 25-county area of western Pennsylvania which its Pittsburgh office supervises.

Congress Blocked Boosts

The increase thus is expected to produce more than $32,000,000 in additional Social Security taxes in this district next year.

Under the original tax scale, employers and employees would have been contributing three per cent each by this time. But Congress blocked all scheduled increases until now.

As the law stands, the most a retired worker past 65 can draw in Social Security benefits now is $45.20 a month. This applies to the worker who made at least $3,000 a year every year since 1937 in a job covered by the Social Security law.

$85 Top Payment

After January 1, this will go up to $45.60. But this isn't due to the higher levy. The top would have gone up automatically because the worker has put in an extra year of membership in the Social Security program.

If the retired worker also has a wife past 65, she can draw half of his pension. Thus, such a couple could get a maximum of $67.80 now and $68.40 after January 1.

The most which any family may receive, regardless of the number of dependent children and other qualifying beneficiaries, is $85. This is fixed by the present law.

Head Of Wooster Speech
Department Speaks On
"Embarassing Moments"

Prof. William C. Craig, head of the department of speech at the College of Wooster, entertained 124 members of the Executives club Tuesday evening at their monthly dinner meeting in the ballroom of The Castleton hotel. Professor Craig spoke on "Embarassing Moments" and really came up with some that would make the most composed grope for an answer. He spoke of embarrassing moments caused by lack of funds and many others, all illustrated by humorous little anecdotes that were apparently true.

He closed his talk with a method of avoiding embarrassing moments—just don't take yourself so serious and laugh with the others at your mistakes, because you're bound to make them.

Carlos Fallon will talk on "Misadventures of a Latin American" at the next dinner meeting of the club on January 10.

The best way to prove financial responsibility is to own insurance now. You must have it before the accident. Farm Bureau auto insurance protects you completely against penalties of the new law. It's non-assessable, backed by $40 millions in assets. It—

Parking Meter Receipts May Exceed $42,000

Such Is Estimate Made In Compiling City Financial Figures For 1950

Members of city council, who have compiled appropriations and a list of anticipated receipts for 1950, apparently believe there will be an increase in parking here next year because they have estimated receipts of $42,000 from the parking privilege. This sum is included in the estimated receipts to flow into various departments. Receipts this year will be between $38,000 and $40,000, it is expected.

From current real estate taxes the city expects to realize $398,269.56.

Other anticipated income for next year, labelled receipts, follows:

Cash in bank January 1, 1950, $90,940.

Real estate levy for prior years, $13,000.

From licenses and permits issued by the city, $32,700.

Police fines and forfeits, $14,000.

Interest and rentals, $1,800.

Departmental earnings, $60,260.

Special assessments, $3,000.

Departments' cost $963,998.19.

Non-revenue receipts will total, $18,000, through $1,000 from the sale of property, supplies and equipment, and refunds, $17,000.

The foregoing amounts total $1,031,344.56, or about $20,000 more than appropriations made for 1950.

The operation and maintenance expenditures expected total $963,998.19, as follows:

General government, $138,643.90.

Protection of persons and property, $363,775.20.

Health and sanitation, $159,707.55.

Highways, $154,426.20.

Recreation, $65,675.34.

Miscellaneous, $80,098.19.

Capital Outlay

The capital outlay will amount to $47,900, listed as follows:

Protection of persons and property, $25,700.

Health and sanitation, $2,800.

Highways, $17,900.

Recreation, $1,500.

The sinking fund shows estimated receipts of $97,768.64, the total cash and securities being $34,924.81, and total estimated receipts $62,843.83.

The city's "take" from the wage tax would have been larger for 1950 than for 1949 had not the school board been granted 3½ mills from the 10 mills levied by the city in 1949. In 1949 the estimated city payroll was $57,500,000. Statistics at the tax receiver's office go to show that it will be nearer $61,000,000 next year, providing steady employment continues.

City Retirement System To Start With Next Year

City's retirement system becomes operative next year according to city officials. Several persons employed by the city are entitled to retire, should they desire. However, according to city officials, retirement is not compulsory as long as the person is qualified to do his job.

Providing an employee has 20 years service and he arrives at the age of 60 he is entitled to retire. However, it is not compulsory.

According to reports, one department of the city there is a man not yet 46 who has 20 years service.

However, according to one city hall report, several members of the Department of Streets, who have had 20 years employment and have reached the age of 60, will retire in 1950.

Urey Says Uranium Sent To Russia Too Small To Make Fuss

Famous Scientist Says He Saw Nothing Startling In Export Of Uranium

CHICAGO, Dec. 7.—(INS)—Dr. Harold Urey, Nobel prize winning chemist and one of the scientists who played an important role in the production of the atom bomb, says that amounts of uranium sent to Russia in 1943 from the U. S. was "so small as to be insignificant."

The noted University of Chicago scientist said he saw "nothing startling" about the U. S. exports of uranium to the Russians in 1943. He pointed out that the uranium materials listed by the State department as licensed for export were compounds and "of virtually no interest, internationally, for explosive purposes during 1943."

He added:

"In addition, the weights allowed by the export licenses were so small as to be insignificant in relation to the amount needed to produce the bomb."

"I think we had to keep a trickle of all these chemicals flowing during that period. If we had shut them off entirely we would have told the world they had some new value, which just several years earlier they hadn't."

CLAWS.

A good many animals have claws. They are useful. Some animals use them for scratching their food out of the ground.

Some use them for help in climbing trees.

Some use them as weapons to kill other animals or for protection.

Girls like to have pretty nails. Some like them long and some like them short.

Some paint them to match their lips or their dresses or their shoes. We want our girls to be pretty. Good health and good food and right living help girls to be pretty.

Plenty of sleep, lots of soap and water, some work and some play, are better than lip stick and nail polish.

Give them all the rouge and mascara and nail enamel they want. Be sure first that they have all the important things to preserve the beauty of their eyes, their cheeks, their teeth, their hands, their dispositions and their lives.

THAT'S YOUR BUDGET NUDGING YOU

TAKE THIS, FOR EXAMPLE—A roomy 6-passenger 4-door Sedan of 115 hp. Ideal for a family car. Available with Dynaflo Drive as optional equipment at extra cost.

LOOK this tidy Buick over—and you may hear a still small voice saying "go ahead—get it!"

If so, don't think it's mere ambition urging you to splurge.

The simple fact is that this lively fashion setter is not only a car straight from your rosiest dreams, but a bravely straight-eight Buick that practically any budget can handle!

Match prices—and you'll find that many a six costs you more than this does.

Boil it down to costs per pound—and poundage in a car often means more durability and longer life as well as smoother riding—and you'll find this one right down among the so-called lowest priced cars.

Figure your investment over the extra years you'll be happy in a Buick—check the used-car listings and see how Buicks hang onto their resale value—and you'll see the wisdom in buying a better car to begin with.

And just figure how much more automobile you're getting here.

The extra value of Buick's own Fireball valve-in-head straight-eight power.

When better automobiles are built BUICK will build them

The bump-smothering gentleness of soft coil springs on all wheels, both fore and aft.

The roominess of Buick's king-size interiors—the lightness of Buick controls—the new parking and garaging ease of traffic-handly size—

And that completely different and distinguished look of Buick's tapered fenders, sleek jet-plane lines and the sturdy, shock-deflecting protection of that bold new front-end design.

So go ahead and listen to that still small voice. It's your budget, nudging you to go get the actual figures and replace guesses with facts.

The place to go is your Buick dealer's—and if you want to travel like fortune's favorite, the time to sign on the dotted line is now!

The distinguished speaker on this occasion will be Attorney Lewis L. Guarnieri of Warren, O., a member of the board of trustees of the Catholic university, Washington, D. C.

Rev. Fr. Nicholas DeMita, pastor of St. Vitus church, will be celebrant at the impressive holy mass at 7:30 o'clock Sunday. The Holy Name men will file to their pews and during mass will receive communion, offering it for their intention.

Breakfast To Follow

A communion breakfast immediately after mass will be served with the capable women of the Altar and Rosary society in charge, their president being Mrs. Frances Colao.

At this point speaker Attorney Guarnieri will be introduced. In addition to his law practice, Mr. Guarnieri is quite active in civic and social affairs. A veteran of World War I, the speaker will bring a timely message to the local Holy Name men in St. Vitus parish on the importance of the Holy Name man in the world today. That he is active in affairs of interest in his own community is shown by the fact that he held twice the responsible position as president of the Warren Chamber of Commerce, and president of the Warren Community Chest of 1948.

St. Vitus Holy Name Active
During this year the St. Vitus Holy Name have been very active. The spring and fall rallies and a father-son Communion breakfast have been highly successful, all events drawing crowds of well over 1,000 Catholic men in the county.

Claffi; vice president, William DeCarbo; secretary, Edward DeCarbo; treasurer, William Russo; marshal, Sam Dambrosia; council members, Al Scarazzo, Frank Colao, Charles Scaglione and Nick Tusciano.

Man Arrested At Bessemer Faces Burglary Charge

Ernest Dow, colored, of Oak Hill, Youngstown, is in the county jail, awaiting a hearing before Alderman James C. Brice on a charge of burglary sworn to by Chief of Police Fred Clark of Bessemer.

Dow was arrested early yesterday by Clark.

According to the chief of police Dow attempted to "jimmy" the front door of the Clover Farm store.

Robert Crawford, owner, who lives in an apartment at the store discovered the attempt, went to a rear room of the store and telephoned the chief of police.

Clark went to the store. Dow fled on foot, then jumped into his automobile. Clark pursued Dow at the Triangle, as Dow was endeavoring to escape toward New Middletown.

State police plan to question Dow today to learn if he has been connected with other burglaries in Lawrence county.

Johnson Promises Nation No Repetition Of Pearl Harbor

NEW YORK, Dec. 7.—(INS)—Defense Secretary Louis A. Johnson, speaking on the eighth anniversary of Pearl Harbor, promised the nation today that never again will a "four-o'clock-in-the-morning attack leave us prostrate at five."

Johnson declared that the 12 Atlantic Pact nations, in the event of aggression directed at any member "will be found as one in rising to the defense of western civilization."

The cabinet officer delivered the key address to the opening session of the 54th annual Congress of American Industry, sponsored by the National Association of Manufacturers in New York.

Eighth Anniversary Of Pearl Harbor But No Peace Treaty Yet

WASHINGTON, Dec. 7.—(INS)—The eighth anniversary of the disastrous attack on Pearl Harbor today finds Japan still without a peace treaty and the victorious Allies seriously divided.

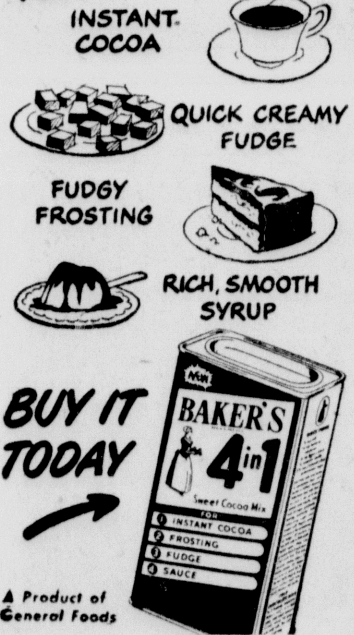

The strict rule imposed on the Japanese under Gen. Douglas MacArthur is in sharp contrast to what the Japanese warlords had promised their faithful followers on that Sunday in 1941 when enemy planes roared over unsuspecting Pearl Harbor and dropped their cargo of death and destruction.

Then it seemed only as though the Japs had but one more step to take to reach the west coast of the United States.

NEW YORK, Dec. 7.—(INS)—College basketball teams playing at Madison Square Garden are evidently destined to perform without their student bands—on orders from James Petrillo's American Federation of Musicians.

Father Slays Three Children

Alexandria, Virginia, Father Tells Police He Doesn't Know Why He Did It

ALEXANDRIA, Va., Dec. 7.—(INS)—An Alexandria father today shot and killed his three young children and then told police "I don't know why I did it."

Slain by a 20-gauge shotgun fired by John S. Conner, 40, were Stephanie Conner, 11; Michael 8, and Cecelia, 4.

Conner's wife, an attractive woman of 35, fled unharmed as the man opened fire on the three children in the kitchen of the family home.

Mrs. Conner's screams alarmed neighbors, who summoned police. Conner surrendered quietly. Police Chief Edgar Sims quoted the man as saying:

"I don't know why I did it. I just don't know. There was no family trouble. Something just came over me."

Ward Resident Has Good Crop Of Figs

Mrs. Louis Colella of Washburn avenue stated that this year's fig tree crop has been excellent and approximately 250 figs were picked—an increase over last year.

The tree, which is four years of age, is planted in her back yard and with the passing of each year the yield increases. There are two seasons of figs, she said. Usually the tree bears fruit in June and September.

The yield depends on the weather and if not too cold, the tree begins to bloom early.

Every winter Mrs. Colella buries the tree in the back yard. This is necessary to keep the fig tree from freezing. Fig trees cannot stand cold weather and die from the cold if not protected. Huge mounds of dirt are placed around the tree before cold weather sets in. In late April or early May the dirt is removed and in a short time the tree blossoms, ready again for the two fig seasons.

Although relatively a young tree, Mrs. Colella said that the fruit is very sweet and the figs are black and quite large. Seventh ward residents nearby expressed curiosity about the tree and these past summers the Colella residence was visited often by many who wanted to taste figs.

Youngsters Enjoy
Initial Sledding

In the ward, the young folks were quick in getting out their sleds after the fall of snow on Tuesday evening, and they certainly seemed to be having a swell time, this being the first snow of sufficient thickness for sled-riding. The fact that the youngsters did not have to report for school until 10 o'clock this morning gave them a little more leeway to stay out a little longer.

Recent Recruiting Campaign
Brings In Many New Men
And Officers

HAVE ROOM FOR ADDITIONAL MEN

Since the start of the recruiting drive of the Pennsylvania National Guard in September, the 229th Field Artillery Battalion has enlisted 32 new enlisted men and three officers. This is not an overall gain however, since several men have been discharged to enlist in the regular army. Lt. Col. George F. Mitchell, the commander, states:

Battery A in DuBois has sent 17 men from their Battery to the Regular Army and reports from the Army show that these men received good training in the National Guard and are advancing more rapidly than those with no National Guard experience.

The 229th is closer to its authorized strength than ever before but still has a few openings for men between the ages of 17 and 34. Men enlisting will receive training here at home and will receive the equivalent of one day's pay for their two hour drill each week. Army clothes and equipment will be issued free while they are members of the National Guard.

Those interested may call at Cunningham Armory any day or on Wednesday or Thursday nights.

Many fine comments were received from the persons taking the course upon its completion. Mrs. Albert Batten, who just completed it says the following about the course:

"I think the home nursing course is a fine thing, it would be wonderful if we might have it taught in our schools and would be a great help to young parents".

There will be no further classes taught until after the holiday season, it is announced by Mrs. Ueber. The next classes will be taught in the New Castle senior high school and will be announced by Earle Cass, vocational education director of the city's schools.

Dramatic Group Presents Play At Smorgasborg-Program At YW
Tuesday Evening

Y.W.C.A. class members and friends, numbering 100, met Tuesday evening for a smorgasborg and program held in the Y.W. auditorium to mark the close of a successful fall season.

After singing grace at their places around small tables, the group formed a line to file past the well-filled smorgasborg. It had been attractively arranged under the supervision of Mrs. C. P. Tucker of the Sewing Tool class.

Supper Served

Mrs. Louis Fusco of the dress form class preside dand immediately following the supper. Two honor guests were introduced, Mrs. James W. Moorehead, president of the association and Mrs. A. B. Foster, chairman of the department which organizes classes.

Each class took this occasion to display its wares. The Players Club, directed by Mrs. Marion Stafford, gave an exceedingly good presentation of a one-act farce entitled, "Mrs. Harper's Bazaar" by Babette Hughes.

It was a play about a group of women belonging to the B.O.E. Club and their tjals and troubles in having a bazaar to raise money to help the poor children of Kentucky. These children had trouble getting to school on account of mountains and they had to use mules. The climax came, when a telegram informed the women that their mules were no longer used. They now use Ford's. That was the last straw, because one of the women, a prominent member of the club had sculpted a statue of a mule and it was to be unveiled by a move actress brought in from Hollywood for the occasion.

Players Perform

Taking part in the play were Mrs. Frank McClain as Mrs. Harper; Miss Sara Linz as Mrs. Tesoro; Miss Ruth Jamison, Mrs. Cunliffe; Mrs. William Lestas, Mrs. Spindler; Miss Theresa Sparano, Suzanne Dale; Mrs. Harrison Ippolito, Honey Walters; Mrs. William Palumbo, Fay Ellis; Miss Marilyn Cypher, Mrs. Gwyn Williams, Miss Lucille Reno was accompanist.

Mrs. Stafford, director, deserves credit for bringing out dramatic ability possessed by these people. Each one put on a very good performance and the audience was delighted.

Group singing of Christmas carols was led by Mrs. James W. Moorehead, accompanied by Mrs. A. J. Collingwood of the lampshade class.

Teachers Introduced

Mrs. Fusco introduced the teachers of the YW classes who included Mrs. Harold Dangerfield, teacher of slipcover making; Mrs. Marion Stafford, Players' club director; Mrs. Sarah Nicholson, teacher of lampshades and Mrs. Robert DuPont, teacher of both the dress form and the sewing tool classes.

Announcements were made about the World Fellowship of the YWCA and that the local YW is still striving towards its goal of $325.00 as it's share in the world work. The Kits for Europe project was explained, with a request that all who can, make a kit and then bring it to the Christmas party which will be next Tuesday. It will be for all YWCA members and will be a delightful occasion.

Plan To Discuss Jobless Benefits

State Unemployment Compensation Administrators To Gather Friday

RECOMMENDATIONS WILL BE DRAWN UP

By FELIX COTTEN
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)
WASHINGTON, Dec. 7.—Labor department officials said today that state unemployment compensation administrators will arrive in Washington Friday for discussion on proposals to liberalize jobless benefits.

Government unemployment chiefs also plan to take up with the state leaders the question of a federal reinsurance fund to protect state unemployment compensation funds against possible exhaustion.

These conferences are intended to pave the way for drafting proposals for changes in the federal unemployment compensation law to be presented to Congress when it reconvenes January 3.

After threshing out the problems with state administrators, Labor department officials plan to present proposals for changes in the law to the Unemployment Insurance Advisory Council at meetings in Washington December 15 and 16.

This private council, set up by law to advise government unemployment officials, will draw up a set of recommendations.

Up to President
Officials pointed out that the final decision on proposals for law changes will be made by President Truman after the Budget bureau has passed on the tentative recommendations.

The president is expected to ask Congress again to set up a federal reinsurance fund, a national "floor" on benefits and duration of payments, and extension of coverage to include workers in businesses employing only one or more and certain other uncovered employees. The president previously proposed that unemployment benefits be raised in all states to 50 per cent of the lost wage up to a top limit of $30 per week on the jobless benefit. He may repeat this recommendation.

The suggestion has been made that unemployment compensation be extended to members of the armed forces. This question may be considered in the coming discussions.

States in Good Shape
Officials said that, with total state reserves of more than seven billion dollars, most states are in excellent shape. But Rhode Island and three or four others, they added, will face difficulties if there should be any substantial increase in unemployment. Rhode Island is generally acknowledged to be the main trouble spot.

A federal reinsurance fund is proposed to keep these few states from running out of benefit money. But federal officials say provision must be made for standards so that states will not yield to the temptation to place the whole burden of the federal government.

This matter will be among those taken up with the state administrators.

Officials said the tendency has been toward a wider and wider gap among states in the amount and duration of benefits, qualifications for benefits, and other features. To offset this trend, they said, tightening up of federal standards is being sought, including a national floor on amount and duration of benefits.

Mr. Blake was hit by a car on the night of October 31 and was seriously injured. He incurred two compound fractures of the leg, a badly cut arm, an injured shoulder and an injury to his head.

He has been removed to his home at 228 Philadelphia avenue in order to build him up physically. Later he will go back to the hospital for an operation.

Have you given your house a check-up lately? You'll probably find many spots that need attention.

Roof, ceilings, sidewalls, porch steps, plumbing and wiring are only a few of the places that may be crying for repairs.

A home repair or modernization loan here is the way to finance the cost.

New Castle Downs Ursuline In Opener 32 To 24

Don Reed Paces Locals With 11; Sansone Gets 8

New Castle Senior High basketball team opened its 1949-50 season last night at George Washington court with a 32 to 24 win over Ursuline of Youngstown.

The Red and Black in its second season under the tutelage of George "Gig" Thomas, took a 10 to 5 lead in the first period and was never headed.

Coaches Tom Carey and John "Rags" Gennock, former New Castle cage stars, brought a big but somewhat inexperienced team to face their alma mater. The Irish have lots of room for improvement and can still prove to be a contender for honors in the tough City league in Youngstown.

Poor Foul Mark

Ineptness at the foul line proved costly to both squads but the locals took a slight advantage in this department. The difference from the free throw line provided a comfortable victory margin. New Castle connected on 10 out of 25 attempts. The visiting Irish caged only 4 out of 20 tries.

Don Reed again paced the local scoring attack with 11 points. The big center was high point man in Section 3 last season and apparently plans to maintain top honors again this year. Three starters John Sansone, Dick Lewis and Ray Latsko have just completed a rugged football campaign and have played together on the hardwood a little more than a week. The gridgers gave a good account of themselves last night, however, accounting for 19 points.

Don Leiberger hit the scoring column with only two foul shots but pleased Coach Thomas very much with his floor game.

Switch Defense

New Castle displayed a man to man defense for the first time in several years. This type was used by most of the teams in section 3 last year and may signal the beginning of a more prosperous hoop season for the Thomasmens.

The locals face a tough assignment Friday at Youngstown East.

New Castle reserves won the preliminary game 29 to 9.

Ellwood City Beats Midland High 35-31

Ellwood City opened its 1949-50 basketball schedule Tuesday night by defeating Midland 35-31 on the Ellwood court.

George Soos and Carl Mantz led the Wolverines in scoring with 15 and 12 points respectively. Black had the most for Midland with 11 points.

Ellwood held a commanding ten-point lead at the end of the third quarter but Midland pulled within two points with 30 seconds to go. George Soos ended the threat, however, when he sank two free throws.

Next game on the Wolverine schedule is with New Brighton Friday night at Ellwood City.

Young Cager Dies After Practice

RANKIN, Pa., Dec. 7.—(INS)—Fourteen-year-old Louis Cubanok, Jr., last night succumbed to a cerebral hemorrhage in a Pittsburgh hospital only a few hours after he left a practice basketball game at Rankin High school.

The youth was a guard on the junior team which was playing a practice game with the senior team for tonight's tilt with Fifth Avenue high.

BUSINESS COLLEGE TAKES ECCLESIASTICS

New Castle Business College captured its first victory of the season Monday by whipping the Ecclesians Club 43 to 38 on the Ben Franklin court.

The college boys are anxious to play games with Y league teams.

SPORTSMEN TO SHOOT FOR TURKEYS TONIGHT

Lawrence County Sportsmen's Association will sponsor a lucky target turkey shoot at the club grounds near the Harbor tonight. Herm Steinbrink has announced that shooting will be from 7 until midnight and some nice turkeys are being offered as prizes.

Despite the post-war economic decline, minor league baseball hit new attendance highs in 1949 for the fourth consecutive year.

Louis To Box Pat Valentino

Exhibition May Be One Of Louis Most Important Bouts

CHICAGO, Dec. 7.—(INS)—Joe Louis clashes with Pat Valentino of San Francisco tonight in what may be boxing's most important exhibition in 17 years.

The scene is the same and so is the objective. Whether the outcome will be the same—the end of another great champion—will be known in a matter of hours.

In 1932, Jack Dempsey met King Levinsky in a four-round exhibition in the Chicago Stadium. The one-time fish peddler outpointed Dempsey and the former heavy-weight champion abandoned any further plans for a comeback.

Louis is now at a similar crossroads. His 10-round exhibition with Valentino is a test to determine whether he is almost the man he once was and whether it is wise to seek the title again.

Joe, at 35, weighs 225 pounds. He was only 199 in his second fight against Max Schmeling in 1938. He was 213½ in his last title defense against Jersey Joe Walcott in 1948.

Dempsey, at 37, weighed 207 against Levinsky. The Manassa Mauler tipped the scales to 192½ when he fought Gene Tunney in Chicago's Soldier Field.

The Louis of the days gone by would have had no trouble whatsoever with Valentino.

Yankees Grant Release To Keller

NEW YORK, Dec. 7.—Charley Keller—baseball's Maryland mauler—who was a prominent figure in one of the greatest outfield combinations of all time, today no longer is a member of the New York Yankees.

The broad-shouldered Frederick M.D., fire-plug, whose brilliant career was marred by physical ailments, yesterday asked for and received his unconditional release from Yankee General Manager George Weiss.

King Kong Charley, last of the great Keller-DiMaggio-Henrich outfield to join the Bronx Bombers, is the first to leave.

Oakland Club Meets Tonight

Oakland Sportsman's club will meet at 8 p.m. tonight at their clubrooms in Edenburg. Tree and shrub planting will be discussed, according to John Cole, secretary. The auxiliary will meet also tonight at 7:30 p.m. at the home of Mrs. John Cole, on Sunny avenue.

Mahoning Club Meets Thursday

Mahoning Sportsman's association of Hillsville will meet at 7:30 p.m. Thursday at Hillsville school, according to Secretary J. F. Procopio.

HERE AND THERE IN SPORTS' LAND

HOW MANY All-American teams have you seen that listed Johnny (Kay) Dettley as one of the honor selections?

None.

And yet he probably deserves a first-string berth writes Walter L. Johns, Central Press Sports Editor.

Dettley didn't make it because his team, the University of Mississippi, had a very mediocre season, winning only four, losing five and tying one.

We have never seen Dettley in action. He's a junior now and still has a year to play so maybe we'll catch him before he's through.

What makes us think that maybe he should have been on the honor team?

A stack of replies from our Captains' All-American ballots! This corner received ballots from captains of seven teams which played Mississippi.

ALL SEVEN picked Dettley for the fullback slot. No other player received such backing from one section.

Union Again Beats Darlington, 68-37

Westminster's Towering Titans, who have not been defeated on their home court since 1942, will attempt to make it 60 straight home wins tonight when they tangle with a Gustavus Adolphus quintet at 8:15.

Probable starting lineup for tonight's game will be Capt. McCullough at center, Jack Jones and Bruce Wagner at forward, Pat King at one guard position and either Clyde Shaffer or Jerry Hyder at the other guard post.

Other veterans of last year's squad who are likely to see much action in tonight's game are Don Mayberry of New Castle, Ed Hales of Ford City, John Abraham of Irwin and Dick Fuher of East Brady.

Rocky Belts Horne, Impresses No One

CLEVELAND, O., Dec. 7.—(INS)—Rocky Graziano, the first-slinging kid from Manhattan, appeared to have gained little if any ground today in his climb back up the middleweight ladder despite his unanimous decision over Sonny Horne last night in Cleveland.

The Graziano-Horne bout, witnessed by a record indoor crowd of 14,202, proved only one thing as far as the ex-middleweight king is concerned—that he can whip Horne, who hails from Niles O., three times in a row without knocking him out.

In another 10-round bout, Sandy Saddler, ex-featherweight king took a split decision from Orlando Zulueta, of Havana, Cuba, and with it went the world's junior lightweight crown.

Saddler was pushed all the way by the elusive Cuban, although neither fighter was injured seriously at any time.
